

Remarks and Comment

Examiner objects to pending claims 1- 10 and 14 and notes detail with regard to those objections. Examiner further indicates those claims being allowable if certain 5 adjustment is made. Examiner has provided comments in that regard.

Claims 1 – 10 and 14 have been amended in accordance with Examiner's comments and suggestions with the exception of but a single point. Namely, with regard to objection to Claim 3 which has antecedent basis in the preamble, Applicant believes the foundation is proper. Of course, the patent databases are replete with patent granted
10 claims terms which rely upon the preamble for antecedent basis. If examiner maintains this objection, then Applicant respectfully asks which part of the statute precludes such claims structure. Examiner should point to appropriate statute or cases whereby Applicant has opportunity to more precisely review this point.

Otherwise, all matters objected to by Examiner have been met with compliance.
15 Please reconsider the claims as they are now pending.

This answer addresses each and every objection set forth in the above-identified examination, the claims are now in condition for immediate allowance. In accordance, Applicant now solicits re-examination and favorable conclusion on the earliest possible occasion should it please his Honorable Commissioner.

20 Very respectfully submitted,

Joseph Page
